TESTIMONY COMPLETED IN UNITED EASTERN-TOM REED APEX SUIT

At the conclusion of the testimony of their witnesses, Monday night, John P. Gray, R. L. Anderman and C. W. Herndon, attorneys for the United Eastern, rested their case.

There were three points brought out by the defense:

First that regardless of whether the two veins were a part of the same vein in the beginning, they are now wholly two separate and distinct veins. That the Big Jim vein has its apex in, and is wholly below the lines of the Big Jim claim and that the Gray Eagle vein has its apex and ends wholly in the limits of Tom Reed ground.

Second that if the veins were originally parts of the same vein and the portion in the Gray Eagle ground is the top part of the vein, the Tom Reed could not follow the vein on its downward course, as contemplated by the apex law, but would have to go up more than 400 feet on the fault, to reach the apex of the Big Jim vein.

Third that if the general vein was originally the same, and separated by a fault, the fault movement was oblique, and the vein now in Gray Eagle ground was never the portion of the vein originally connected with the Big Jim vein.

Witnesses called by the Eastern were Horace V. Winchell, past president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers; Dr. Emmons, professor of geology of the University of Minnesota and head of the geological survey of that state; J. A. Burgess, former superintendent of the United Eastern; Fred Searles, eminent geologist; and Ray W. Moore, present superintendent of the United Eastern.

Models fully as elaborate as the Tom Reed's were furnished by the United Eastern. One particularly interesting was the reproduction of the veins, under glass showing the relative width, depth and slant of each vein, thus showing everything but the formation in between. Another model showed a cross-sectional view, giving one a very good idea of the veins themselves.

To further acquaint the Court with the actual situation, Judge Bollinger will pay a personal visit to the mines for the purpose of studying the situation underground. This trip will be made December 1. Mr. Winchell and Mr. Phelps will accompany the Judge on this underground reconnoitering, explaining the different phases of the situation.

On January 17 council for the United Eastern and Tom Reed will argue the case before Judge Bollinger. At this time also they will submit briefs.

Sometime within sixty days from January 17, Judge Bollinger will make his decision.

This is a most interesting suit in the mining world, owing to the fact that it opens up something new in apex law, namely: can a vein be followed down and then up again several hundred feet.

HIGHGRADE STRIKE ON AMERICAN 670

Last night at nine o'clock a report was received from Oatman that the United American, on its 670 foot level, had encountered some high grade ore showing considerable free gold.

This morning the report was confirmed and in fact the new strike is reported by those who have seen it to be the richest ore ever taken from the Oatman district. As yet no assays have been run but when one takes into consideration the highgrade that has been struck in the Tom Reed and United Eastern, one can readily figure that this ore will go into the thousands of dollars per ton.

This strike is in the new drift headed toward the Tom Reed in which an underground connection will be made with the Tom Reed's 400 workings when both companies get to their end line.

As we go to press the excitement is getting intense and several automobile loads of United American stockholders are on their way to the mine.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL CLOSES MONDAY

H. L. Horner, in charge of the Red Cross Membership campaign in Mohave County, reports that memberships are coming in in the usual satisfactory manner. The ladies who are working in Kingman are Mrs. Charles Wunderlick, chairman; Mrs. M. I. Adams, Mrs. S. T. Elliott, Mrs. C. D. Field, Mrs. H. L. Horner, Mrs. H. L. Hoskins, Mrs. N. W. Phelps and Mrs. J. H. Ware.

There are also workers at Oatman, Chloride and Hackberry branches, whose names were not able to get for this week's issue of the Miner.

The quota for Mohave County this year is 1200 memberships. Last year there were but 960. It is thought that the 1200 names will be enrolled this year without doubt.

One thing that is not generally known is the fact that half the money raised in the county stays here with the Mohave County Chapter to help carry on the Red Cross work here.

In speaking of the Red Cross Roll Call, Our President has said:

"Sound patriotism and genuine human service are continuous, not intermittent, not contingent merely upon the excitement of war. If there is in some of us an inward cooling of the fine fervor which animated us in the crisis of the nation's stress and peril, a contraction of the spirit which ennobled us as individuals and as a nation, now, during the 'Red Cross Call,' is a fitting season to take counsel with our inner selves, to rekindle the old flame, to reaffirm allegiance to practical patriotism and practical humanitarianism, and to symbolize the regeneration of our better thoughts and handsomer selves by re-enlistment in a great army mobilized for the common good."

The Red Cross Roll Call for Mohave County closes this coming Monday.

BOY SCOUTS BANQUET NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

The Boy Scouts are going to have a banquet next Tuesday night in the basement of the St. John's Methodist Church. Mary Eleanor Cohenour is going to serve the eats, and it is remarkable how the membership has picked up since the banquet was announced, for boys sure like to eat.

The Boy Scouts organization the world over has done a lot for boys and the building of a strong organization in Kingman is a very worthy effort.

CORONERS JURY FINDS ROAD AT FAULT IN DEATH OF J. O. ELLIOTT

The funeral of the late Mr. J. O. Elliott, who met a tragic death at the Fourth Street Crossing in Kingman, last Saturday afternoon, was held Tuesday afternoon from Van Marter's Chapel.

Death came suddenly, Mr. Elliott, with others, was waiting to cross the track, while an oil train was being broken. Two other machines had already crossed when he started up the truck he was driving. A freight engine on the track next to that which the oil train was on, backed down upon him just as he was approaching the track. Tom Murphy who was with him, jumped, and it is thought that Mr. Elliott also jumped, but being on the side toward the approaching train, he was caught as the train hit the truck and instantly killed. Murphy ran down the track just ahead of the train as, dragging the truck with it, it went on several feet before it could be stopped.

Coroner Smith was on the scene within four minutes after the accident and soon had a jury together to view the remains. They went into session soon after that, and then adjourned until the next morning, when they brought in their verdict as follows: That Mr. Elliott met his death by being struck by a Santa Fe freight train; that the jury believed that the Santa Fe railroad was responsible for the accident, due to the carelessness of its employees in not taking proper precautions in the handling of traffic over what is known as the Fourth Street crossing. The following men were on the Coroner's Jury: A. F. Harris, John Lako, Dan Lynch, W. Salter, Charles Standish, H. B. Mahaffey, Robert Rosco and Murray Chappell.

It was not the sense of the jury to blame the flagman for the accident.

Mrs. Elliott was on the ranch at the time, and was brought in shortly afterwards by Supt. and Mrs. W. A. Light, of the Truxton Canyon Indian School. Blanche Elliott came in from Barstow the following morning and will remain here to take care of her little sister, while Mrs. Elliott makes a trip to Los Angeles, where another daughter, Mrs. Fern St. Charles, is living.

MINSTREL SHOW AT OATMAN THURS- DAY NIGHT

Oh, Boy! What a tickler is a good old fashioned minstrel show—what a dispeller of gloom.

Next Thursday night is the time and the Star Theater at Oatman is the place, where the Moose Lodge will endeavor to chase gloom clear out of Mohave County.

Our friend "Doc" Tolleson is the director of the enterprise with H. C. Topp taking the lead as interlocutor.

As end men we will have such celebrities as Ebenezer Nair, Pleas. Ames, Hezekiah Moore, Sambo, Tolleson, Rufus Rastus Williams and Pompey Ward.

In the circle will be found, Stackpoole, Sawyer, DeBunce, Herron, Westernman, Pugh, Baliff, Griffith, Savage, White, Thompson and Harmon.

Besides the vocal selections of the men mentioned above will be a selection by Mrs. George McDevitt. We will hear, "It Takes a Long, Tall, Brown-Skinned Gal," "O Death Where is Thy Sting" and many other popular pieces.

Part two will be given over to "Plantation Pastimes", under the direction of O. B. Nair. The feature of part two will be "Ye old fashioned cake-walk".

"In Dixieland", under the direction of Mrs. Henry Hand will be the third part.

It is a lively program, boys, and one worth seeing. Besides, if you aren't there you won't hear what those colored lads will have to say about you. It's a safe bet that some of our Mohaveites will get roasted, turned over and then kidded on the other side. For such is the way of a minstrel show.

MR. AND MRS. WILL HALLORAN MAKING HOME IN KINGMAN

The bride is a Kimberly, Nevada, girl and a very charming young lady. The groom has become quite well known here since he took charge of the Kingman Consolidated several months ago.

PARK-TO-PARK HIGHWAY MEETING OUTLINES FUTURE PLANS

By ANSON H. SMITH.

PYTHIAN SISTERS DANCE THANKSGIVING EVE

The committee of Pythian Sisters, who have the management of the dance Thanksgiving Eve, desire to make known to the public, the fact that the program for the dance will include schotisches, rye waltzes and quadrilles, for the benefit of the older people, who like to dance these dances, as well as all of the other regular dances usually had.

A very complete program has been arranged and all are assured of a good time on this evening, so no one will be using poor judgment in being present.

BASKETBALL GAME THANKSGIVING DAY

At 3 o'clock Thanksgiving Day the Mohave County High School boys meet the boys from the Williams High School in a basketball game at Kingman. The game will be played on the out-of-doors basketball grounds, recently arranged on the baseball grounds.

This promises to be one of the best games of the season. The local boys have been training hard the past few days and are in good condition. The Williams boys have the advantage of having played together for the past three years, having lost but one game last year, and that to the Phoenix High School, in a game played at Phoenix. They are a fast bunch, but the Mohave County boys are determined to make the going hard for them, and wipe out the defeat of a couple of weeks ago when they played the same team at Williams, when the game ended with a score of 42 to 14.

The boys from among whom Coach Kilburn will pick five to start the game off Thursday, are Bill St. Charles, Walter Jones, Chester Minear, Brad St. Charles, Ralph Johnson, Edwin Hilty, Glen Goodwin, Leon Harris and Toler White. It is probable that most of these boys will get into action before the game is over.

The admission will be 50 and 25 cents and it is hoped a record crowd will turn out to help the boys in their initial effort to do in basketball what the Kingman Baseball Team did in baseball. Besides, the Athletic Association needs money to carry out their program. They started off with $20, which they cleared from a dance, to which was added $100 given them by the different classes. The suits and expenses of $92 to Williams, though, have more than eaten up this amount. The gate receipts from Thursday's game however should more than put them in the clear.

Athletic competition among the High School students should by all means be encouraged.

Alta Miller has been chosen Cheer Leader and she and the other girls and boys are going to help put "pep" into the team from the word go.

SMASHES WORLDS RECORD IN Calf-TYING EVENT

Lee Robinson, who was announced at the State Fair as "the pumpkin roller from Mohave County", smashed the world's record at Phoenix last week for tying one calf. The new record hung up was 21 seconds. The old record was 23 seconds.

Robinson was the only Mohave County boy who participated in the Rodeo at the Fair, won in all $925 in prizes.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES

The Holy Communion Service will be held upstairs in the Odd Fellows Hall, Tuesday morning, November 23, 1920, at 7:30 A. M.

The Public is cordially invited to attend.

As the fruition of years of hard work Gus Holmes, of Cody, Wyoming, last week saw his dream of a highway connecting the parks of the great west entering upon a tangible existence.

After 78 days of traveling over good and bad roads that made up the highways leading from Denver through all of the National Parks and covering a distance of nearly 6000 miles, the big motorcade reached Denver on the 8th of this month. On the 11th delegates from the 11 states through which the highway is mapped, arrived in Denver and went into session for the purpose of working out some plan of action whereby the Congress of the United States may be induced to appropriate the necessary money to lay out and hard surface the entire roadway comprising the circle of Parks. The matter was thoroughly discussed and we believe put on a basis for early consummation.

During the session 132 delegates took part in its deliberation. From Arizona 11 delegates were present, E. C. Becker and H. E. Gibbons, represented Apache County; Rev. Fr. Vabre, Fred Gearing and T. C. Wolfack, Flagstaff; C. E. Larsen, and W. C. Rittenhouse, Williams; R. B. Walton, Winslow; Judge C. G. Krook and Anson H. Smith, Kingman; E. A. Ritter, Oatman.

The delegates were highly entertained during the Session by discussions relating to the manner and method of building the great roadway and maintaining it after it becomes an entity. Delegates told of the immense importance that good roads have been to the various communities that have been favored by good highways, Denver and Salt Lake City apparently being the most favored of all sections. Salt Lake representatives told the convention that more tourists had passed through that city this year than through any other city on the continent. While this is not quite believable, we know that Salt Lake has received a fair quota of the travel across country. But statistics compiled by the auto clubs of California show that more travel has come to that state over the National Old Trails Road than all the other highways combined.

And right here, as an illustration of the enormous travel that has gone over the Old Trails this season the records show that more than 13,000 cars passed through Kingman, carrying four and a fraction people to each car, or close to 60,000 as a total. This record is official. We know Kingman does not appreciate the fact that she entertained 60,000 guests this year, but she undoubtedly did, and large benefits accrued to every class of business through it.
